WILSON ESTABLISHES NEW INDUSTRIAL CONFERENCE

BLACKHANDERS SET OFF DYNAMITE WHEN $2,000 IS NOT PAID

Explosion Wrecks Porch And Cracks Wall of House Occupied by Joseph Alexander, Italian Band Leader, in Wellsville at Midnight Wednesday—No One Injured.

Following the receipt of two alleged blackhand letters within the past two weeks, the first demanding $1,000 and the second, $2,000, a portion of the residence of Joseph Alexander, Italian teacher, at 1215 Clover alley, Wellsville, was blown to pieces about midnight Wednesday and the windows in the house and adjoining residences shattered. Several sticks of dynamite, it is believed, were exploded under the front porch of the Alexander home.

The plotter, it is believed, had designs on the life of Alexander. He arrived at his home about 11:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, following a musical engagement and retired. About a half an hour later, he and his sister, who was staying at his residence, were awakened by the blast. Investigating they found the porch demolished and the wall of one of the front rooms badly cracked.

Alexander immediately summoned the police authorities, but the suspected blackhanders had left no clue. Chief of Police Reil was investigating the case Thursday.

Ordered to Leave State

About a month ago Alexander received a letter, postmarked Pittsburgh, Pa., demanding that he either pay $1,000 to a "man who would collect within a short time," or leave the state immediately.

Alexander was instructed to carry the $1,000 wrapped in a handkerchief and tucked in the upper left hand pocket of his coat. The letter told him that he would be asked for it, on the street. According to instructions, Alexander carried the money with him for over a week, but no claim was made.

A short time later a second letter arrived, asking for $2,000. Neither of the two communications was signed. The second letter gave no instructions as to the manner in which he was to pay.

Believing that an attempt was being made to frighten him, when no claimant appeared for the money, Alexander dismissed the subject from his mind.

Police Thursday said that another local Italian music instructor had been threatened in a similar manner.

MORTGAGE ON ARMY CITADEL HERE WILL BE BURNED SUNDAY

Salvation Army Plans Special Services for After-noon.

COL. WM. EVANS COMING

Debt of $12,000 On Building Is Entirely Paid.

Marking the beginning of a new era in the history of the Salvation Army corps in East Liverpool, the $12,000 mortgage on the army citadel, West Third street, will be formally burned at a special service in the citadel next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The service will be under the auspices of the executive committee of the recent Salvation Army Home Service Drive organization, composed of: Attorney Jason H. Brookes, chairman; R. C. Heddleston, secretary, and Joseph Blazer, treasurer.

Colonel William Evans of Pittsburgh, provincial officer of the Salvation Army, accompanied by his staff and band, will have charge of the week end meetings here and will deliver the principal address Sunday afternoon.

The burning of the mortgage Sunday will clear the army citadel of an obligation that dates back to October 27, 1906, when seven East Liverpool men went sponsor for $12,000 to be used in the erection of the barracks. Thomas C. Manton, Henry Webb, J. W. Moore, A. E. Albright, Thomas M. Shay, Harry Watkins and Richard E. Holz were the original guarantors of the mortgage.

The original $12,000 note was reduced by small payments until last May the indebtedness was only $7,500. This was finally cleared in the Salvation Army Home Service drive conducted here a short time ago.

The corps here now numbers 82 and has a Sunday school enrollment of 250 members. In addition to the Sunday school, the corps maintains a Boy Scout troop, Corps Cadets, Young Peoples' Legion and Junior Soldier Brigade.

PEACE TREATY AWAITS ACTION OF PRESIDENT

Next Move Must Come from White House, Is Claim.

SENATE REJECTS PACT

Wilson Takes Failure to Ratify Very Coolly.

By J. BART CAMPBELL.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The peace treaty of Versailles, rejected by the senate, today awaits the action of President Wilson. The next move must come from the white house.

At the close of one of the most dramatic sessions the senate has ever seen, that body adjourned sine die after turning down the peace treaty.

The treaty with the Lodge majority reservations was defeated by a vote of 41 to 51.

The treaty as sent to the senate by President Wilson and the peace conference was defeated by a vote of 35 to 53.

Efforts at compromise were practically null. "The door is closed," Senator Lodge declared, and the administration leaders accepted his verdict.

The only way the German peace treaty can be ratified by the senate is for the administration forces to later agree to the majority reservations they turned down yesterday, it was announced today by Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin and McNary of Oregon and other leaders of the so-called "mild reservationists" on the Republican side.

Defeat of the majority resolution of ratification at last night's session of the senate does not mean "hopeless" defeat for the treaty, Lenroot stated. The letter the president sent to Senator Hitchcock, the administration leader, in which he advised against acceptance of the majority reservations, was directly responsible for the treaty remaining unratified when the first session of the sixty-sixth congress was adjourned sine die last night, he added.

Until the regular session begins on Dec. 1, the first Monday in December, in accordance with the constitution, the senate can take no further action with regard to the treaty unless the president calls a special session of congress before then. It is not believed he will do so.

After congress meets on December 1, the president can withdraw the treaty and send it back to the senate. It can then be re-committed to the senate foreign relations committee, where it can be held until an agreement, by which it will be ratified substantially with the majority reservations, is reached.

"The treaty will remain 'dead' in

COUNTY BOARD HITS BUDGET

The county board of health, composed of the mayors of the cities and presidents of the township boards of trustees of the county, met in Lisbon Wednesday afternoon and not only rejected a proposed $40,000 budget, but passed a resolution declaring that it was the sense of the county board that no budget be adopted, and also another resolution urging Senator C. A. White and Representative E. M. Croser to do all they can to repeal the Hughes health law at the next session of the legislature.

Mayor J. S. Wilson, of East Liverpool, presided, and Mayor Walter Armstrong, of Lisbon, was secretary. The roll call showed the others present as follows: Mayor George Imbrie, of Wellsville; S. D. County Commissioner John H. Hinchliffe made an argument against the budget, claiming that it was excessive and that the nurses and equipment demanded were not needed. County Auditor C. E. Hamilton gave figures showing that if each township was called upon to pay its proportion of this $40,000 that many of the townships would have nothing left with which to take care of running expenses.

Joshua Brantingham then made a motion, which was seconded by John P. Neill, that the entire budget be rejected. This was adopted by a unanimous vote.

Trustee Tullis then moved that it was the sense of the board that no levy whatever be made for the oper-

MERCY UNIT GIVES REPORT OF WAR RELIEF

Red Cross Sewing Rooms Made 41,458 Pieces of Apparel.

1,000 COMFORT KITS

Among Articles Knitted Were 6,845 Sweaters, Says Report.

Over 41,000 articles of wearing for the use of men in the service were prepared in the Red Cross sewing rooms in East Liverpool during the world war, according to the report of Miss Sara Shims, head of the department, announced Thursday.

Not until this report was compiled did even the workers themselves realize the great quantity of work accomplished by the organization. Thousands of hours of labor is represented in the bulk of work turned out by the faithful Red Cross war workers.

Red Cross sewing rooms were established in the High school building early in 1917. In July of the same year the Red Cross headquarters were changed to the second floor of the Carnegie library building. Here the various sewing auxiliaries and individual workers reported daily for work or were given unfinished wool yarns and other materials to be converted into the finished product. When completed the supplies were returned to the headquarters where they were carefully inspected, laundered if soiled, and packed into boxes for shipment to Lake Division Red Cross headquarters Cleveland for consignment to army camps in this country or overseas.

Included in the output of the sewing rooms were 6,845 knitted sweaters, an item in itself that required thousands of hours of work by scores of nimble fingers. Another huge item is the 3,538 pairs of woolen socks knitted and prepared for the use of the nation's service men. Other knitted articles included 300 helmets, 672 pairs of woolen wristlets, 95 shawls and 63 pairs of stockings.

Over 1,000 comfort kits, containing the many small necessities of the soldier, were made and packed by the workers, together with 500 Christmas packages in 1917 and 893 in 1918.

Here is a list of other articles turned out from the sewing room: 4,490 shirts, 110 undershirts, 1,769 hospital shirts, 68 of which were sent to the "flu" hospital; 6,025 towels, 35 of which were sent to the "flu" hospital; 2,564 pillow cases, 157 sent to the "flu" hospital; 966 pairs pajamas; 300 chemises; 200 house gowns; 212 petticoats; 300 pinafors; 200 nightgowns; 600 pairs drawers; 483 operating leggings; 300 pairs bed socks; 143 bath robes; 946 shoulder wraps; 200 pairs trench slippers; 10 dust clothes; 148 wash cloths; 85 operating gowns; 255 ice and water bag covers; 95 ambulance pillows; 500 Italian kits and 678 property bags, a total of 41,458 articles.

the senate unless our reservations are adopted," Senator Lodge, majority leader, said.

"I think the Republicans have worked themselves into an awkward position," Senator Hitchcock, the minority leader, said. "They counted on the enemies of the treaty being able to frame reservations they could ram down our throats—and they were unable to do so."

President Wilson is taking the failure to ratify the treaty very coolly, those who are in closest touch with him declared today. He is full of fight, it was said.

It was announced that the president will not take any action or make any comment for the present, allowing a few days to pass to allow public opinion to crystallize. He is said to be confident that the country at large is behind him and not behind the opponents of the pact.

Secretary of State Lansing today said simply "there are no plans for the future."

Nine File Affidavits In Connection with Change of Venue Motion.

Hearing on the motion, filed by counsel for Herman B. Feustel, indicted on charges of embezzling Empire Investment company funds, for a change in venue, was continued in common pleas court at Lisbon Wednesday until December 8, at the request of attorneys for the defendants.

Feustel's attorneys filed affidavits signed by nine East Liverpool and Wellsville men who claimed that Feustel could not get a fair trial in Columbiana county. These were J. C. Benney, C. Nick Moesig, Albert Pickens, Fred W. Miller, Thomas H. Cloran, Percy Frost, Homer D. Risinger and W. J. McKinney, East Liverpool and Harvey R. Adams, of Wellsville.

Ten additional affidavits will be filed by the defense. The court gave Feustel's attorneys until next Tuesday to file the affidavits and the prosecution until December 8 to submit counter affidavits. The motion will be heard December 8 before a foreign judge.

WILL CONSIDER FARE PROBLEM

That Trades and Labor council here may reverse its position in connection with the fare increase controversy, was indicated at a meeting of the trades organization Wednesday night when a committee was named to discuss the situation with the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company officials.

In all probability another investigation will be conducted by the Trades and Labor committee. Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America appeared before council and made the plea that they could not ask the traction company for an increase in wages when the traction company is not permitted to obtain more revenue to meet the increased demands, through a raise in fare.

Trades and Labor council will seek to adjust the condition. A committee will be named to meet with officials of the traction company in the near future and in the event, it is declared, that officials of the company can show that the union employees of the concern would receive a "just" part of the increase, Trades and Labor council would recommend to city council that at its next meeting it take steps to grant the street car company the increase.

William Horton will head the committee from Trades and Labor council which will confer with officials of the traction company and union employees of the company. This meeting, it is said, will take place prior to the next regular meeting of city council.

Employees of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company here, who are striking for the right of "collective bargaining," will be benefited by a fund to be raised by the union men of the city, it was announced. All union workmen in the city, it is declared, will be assessed 50 cents each week for the maintenance of the fund to assist the striking mill men. Dan Jones and William McIlvane, members of Success lodge of the Amalgamated association of mill workers, pleaded for the fund at the labor council meeting.

Delegates from various local trade unions were instructed Wednesday night to have their local representatives at the next annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, ask for the rescinding of the order which now prohibits negroes from becoming members of the federation. A number of negroes here are members of crafts at the railroad shops, but are ineligible to become members of the federation on account of that ruling. Trades and Labor council unanimously endorsed the construction of the overhead bridge from the Pennsylvania Railroad yards over Main street, landing in Fifteenth street. Railroad employees told the council that the bridge was necessary for the safeguarding of their lives.

SEEK INSTRUCTIONS ON HEALTH REGULATIONS

Wellsville city council, at its next meeting, will petition the state board of health to instruct city officials here as to the manner in which health matters will be cared for after January 1, 1920.

Mayors of each city and presidents of the boards of township trustees in Columbiana county, forming and advisory council, met at Lisbon Wednesday afternoon and rejected the budget arranged for the payment of the county health board, as provided for in the Hughes bill, enacted recently by the state legislature. Mayor George B. Imbrie of Wellsville, attended.

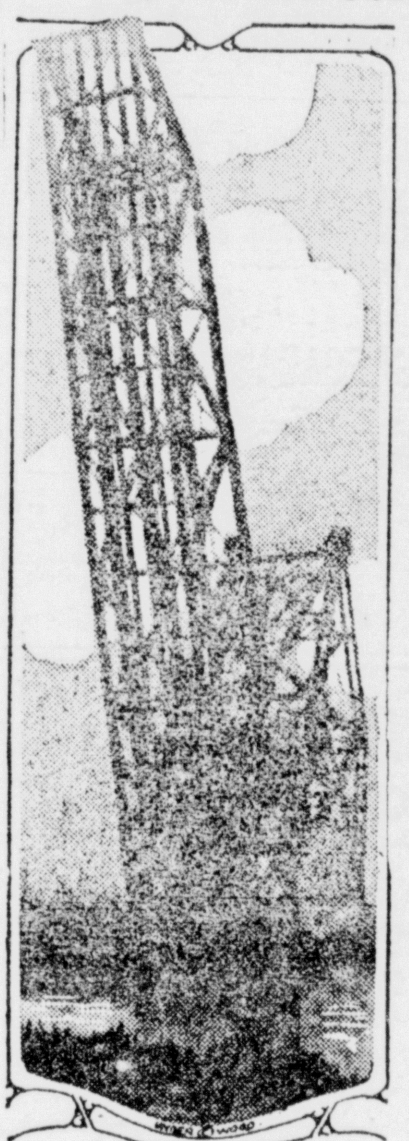

Under the provisions of the Hughes law, the city health board will pass out of existence on January 1.

Instead of the Columbiana high eleven, the Orange and Black will go against the Burgettstown, (Pa.) high gridirers Saturday afternoon at Central park. It was announced Thursday by officials of the local school. Columbiana high was originally scheduled here, but the game was cancelled Wednesday afternoon in favor of the Pennsylvanians.

'BIG BUSINESS' HIT BY DUFFY

COLUMBUS, Nov. 20.—Blaming "Big Business" for the social unrest and strikes of the country, T. J. Duffy of East Liverpool, chairman of the state industrial commission, makes a plea for kindness and hospitality to aliens in Americanization work. Duffy deplored the presence of Bolsheviks and anarchists in this country but said men should not be called by such names just because they do not speak the English language. Chairman Duffy said: "Much of the prejudice against foreigners here is shown by the same men who brought them here to defeat and break the spirit of American workmen. It's not revolution they are fearing from aliens, but the fact that they are becoming Americanized to be used to their own ends."

Glass is mentioned in Egyptian lore as early as 3300 B. C.

ONCE MORE "OVER THE TOP"

Once more East Liverpool has gone "over the top" in a campaign for a worthy purpose.

Reports, practically complete, submitted Wednesday, showed that $4,046.25 had been received in the third Red Cross roll call, thus surpassing the record made in the second campaign held in 1918.

Preserving beyond the date scheduled for the close of the campaign, Mrs. C. A. Ferguson, city chairman, and her co-workers continued their canvass, with the result that East Liverpool responded to the mercy call comparatively as well as any other city in the Lake division.

East Liverpool will have close to 8,000 memberships in the Red Cross. Of this number 3,000 will be adults and 4,843 juniors. One of the bright features of the campaign was the wonderful manner in which the children in the public and parochial schools responded to the appeal of the great mother of mankind. Ten buildings reported a 100 per cent enrollment.

While the work of the Red Cross is just as important now as it was in 1918 and 1917, the war years, the fact that hostilities had ceased seemed to handicap the workers in their canvass for renewal of memberships. And in view of this fact, the enrollment reported by the campaigners is far beyond expectations. It certainly speaks well for the management of the campaign.

SENATORIAL ECONOMY.

There is economy even in the United States Senate. Perhaps that "even" is unfair; but let it stand. Traditions must be maintained, and it makes a better editorial. Senators are supposed to be millionaires; and the C. of L. has swept over the Capitol with such devastating effect that senators are economizing. Their methods are instructive and inspiring.

Senator Gerry of Rhode Island is described by an enthusiastic correspondent as actually "driving his own car" to save the salary of a chauffeur. Senator Spencer of Missouri goes him one better by driving to work in a flivver, just like the folks back home. Senators Wolcott of Delaware, Kellogg of Minnesota and Watson of Indiana, who used to set an example in economy and democracy by using the street cars, have taken to walking since the fare rose to seven cents.

Senator McCormick of Illinois is having his suits and overcoats "turned."

Senators Simmons of North Carolina and Johnson of California are raising their own vegetables on a farm outside of Washington.

Senator Johnson of South Dakota buys canned goods at army sales and wheels them home in a baby carriage.

With such illustrious examples, why should any private citizen be a spendthrift?

MOTION PICTURE TITLES.

The art of the motion picture drama is not confined to the pictures. A great deal of attention is paid to the titles and subtitles in making the best photoplays. In the ordinary pictures, however, the titling is frequently so inartistic as to inspire the ridicule of even the uncritical movie fan.

That the careless titling should be carried over into educational films is very unfortunate. In such pictures the accuracy of the whole thing is the important feature; yet ignorant or indifferent persons are permitted to write the titles for the pictures, with very strange results.

A lecturer tells of a picture of a group of monkeys showing three distinct species, one of which was the diminutive marmoset. The imaginative and sentimental writer of the titles had called this a "family of monkeys" and had called attention especially to the "baby"—in fact, an adult marmoset. The lecturer, of course, knew his business and explained the picture correctly.

The educational possibilities of motion picture photography seem almost limitless. But is it necessary to hinder the good the educational film may do by having the titles written by some one who knows nothing at all about the flowers or animals or scenes shown? A great many of these educational films are shown between the feature plays at regular motion picture theatres. There is no lecturer to point out the inaccuracies. The confidence of the spectators would be gained and held by correct titles.

BUSINESS FICTION.

There are styles in fiction as in clothes. The habits and thoughts of a time are mirrored in its short stories. The tight-waist and the hoop-skirt had their counterparts in Victorian fiction.

Of course "fiction" in this sense does not include the big, timeless productions of the few great masters of the art.

Consider the magazine story. What does the average reader "eat alive?" Sex stuff, as such, has dropped entirely out of the present favor, and sought its own level in the magazines which cater to below-average tastes. Sentimental war-time stuff, pushed out in an evident effort of editors to get rid of it all quickly, finds hardly a reader over the age of seventeen, unless it is touched with business interest.

That is the fiction of today—the business story. The romance of business is coming to the front. The great game of taking an infant business, coddling it, petting it, disciplining it, bringing it safely to maturity—that game which absorbed the few great fortune-makers of the late nineteenth century—is now played by everyone with the conscious knowledge of business as a game.

The department store stories, the returned soldier who takes a girl partner in the automobile repair shop, the various household budgeting stories are all variations of the one theme.

The fiction isn't very good, to be sure. Hurriedly written stories never were. The flavor, however, is wholesome. Business has ceased to be a fight to the finish. It has become a friendly, co-operative sport. Women are interested in work outside the home, and men have begun to see that housekeeping is a business and not mere sentimental drudgery. Everybody is interested in the individual opportunity which is so sane and cheerful a characteristic of America.

NEW YORK LETTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The strike of the actors along the Rialto tore the mask of the stage star—and indeed life are fading. In the public thought there has always been a touch of the mystic about the actor. The audiences never got a "close-up" so to speak. He was a member of the super-vagabondic and much romance was woven about him.

Then with an infernal bang, the actor was seen as a business man—a hard headed, tight fist commander of dollars. The stuff about cooking the home egg for breakfast over the gas jet in the hall bed room, for Dear Art's sake, didn't ring true. Strutting along Broadway, the public saw their idols haranguing the populace from soap boxes and they were coatless and sweating—and you may believe it or not but there is something about romance and sweat that will not mix.

The astute manager knows the value of hiding the star. No one ever saw Maude Adams walking along Broadway or Fifth avenue. So far as is known she never ate in a public restaurant. That was said of the lure for most folk. The call of curiosity is mighty. It will fill theaters.

Mary Miles Minter, a picture star, has a clause in her contract which forbids her being seen on Broadway. Speaking for myself I would never go to court to have it broken—but thousands would gurgie with joy at the mere sight of her tripping from a limousine. Male stars are rarely seen outside of the Lambos or Players or the Claridge grill.

Actor folk have always been thought a thing apart because they acted. See them close and they are no different from your grocer or your college professor or your druggist. There are many other things the strike has changed. A lot of ticket speculators went back to the plumbing business.

It is said that a number of bed room furniture plants had to suspend business due to close of Al Woods' productions and the gross saving of powder which would otherwise have come off all over leading men's coats after love songs with leading ladies is tremendous.

Also drop a safty tear or so for the falling off in thefts of actresses' jewels.

And while we are upon the subject, I am for the actor. But there is a whole lot of them that actually think "art" is short for "Arthur." They would be happier and of greater service to humanity running street cars.

The vaudeville houses are opening for the winter season. New York has the best vaudeville in the country. It is from the variety houses that Tin Pan Alley depends for the success of their songs. Among those being sung the most are "The Vamp," "Lullaby Blues," "Sand Dunes" and "My Baby's Arms." The latter is the song hit of the Follies.

The 54 elevators in the Metropolitan Life building stoppoted on account of a strike recently—and some tenants walked up 50 floors. The most peculiar thing, however, was the fear of scores when they realized they could not get down to the ground without walking forty floors or so. They became panicky and many were hysterical. As long as they knew they could ride down on elevators nothing worried them—but when they had to walk all sorts of phobias were on display. It was amusing to see the short winded bosses when they arrived at 9 o'clock contemplate the climbing of some 40 or 50 floors—walk up a few floors and then come toddling back down again.

The blow which had severed Paula's happiness came in a well-meant letter from mother—a letter assuring Paula that her judgment in the choice of a husband for her daughter had been most wise.

"In your splendid home, with your fine social position," wrote mother, "you will realize that the love for Teddy Van, which seemed to you so serious, was after all not the only thing worth having." And David had read that letter—there was the tragedy.

He had opened it while Paula was out of town. His mother-in-law had intended paying them a visit, as she had purposed, and was writing, advising them when to meet her at the station. David desired to know the time of meeting, and read instead of his wife's deception.

When Paula returned he had faced her with the accusation of love for another man while marrying him for material benefit. And poor Paula, believing herself in the truth of his accusation, could but turn dumbly from the hurt of her husband's eyes.

It was later, through days of banishment from his presence, that full knowledge came to her of her own deep love for him. But David had left her on the night of condemnation.

"If your love is not mine, neither are you mine, Paula," he had said, and then, resolutely, he had closed the door—the only door which gave passage through the hall. Since then they had lived silently apart, unchanged only in the eyes of the world. And Paula, knowing the bitterness of the blow she had dealt David's great love, could still find no way to open the door his will had closed.

She was in the long room at twilight again, eager for her glimpse of her husband's coming. Upon the table she found a letter addressed in her father's flowing hand.

"Old dad is coming to see you, girl," she read. "Can't seem to rest easy in my mind about that matrimonial venture of yours—got to come and find out if you and that husband of yours are as happy as mother thinks you are. Got to know for sure, because the doctor says I won't be here long. I've had a sort of stroke and— Well, I can't leave you, girl, until I'm sure you're happy. I'll be with you tomorrow—Dad."

With a little cry, Paula ran and slipped the letter under the closed door. Tears were upon her cheeks, and as she waited breathlessly the door swung wide; her husband stood before her, the letter in his hand.

"For old dad's sake, Paula," he said sadly. But Paula was in his arms.

"For my sake, too, David," she cried. Dad's letter was the key to open the door, but I—I love you, David!"

And, looking into her eyes, he knew the truth.

THE CLOSED DOOR

By FREDERICK CLARK.

Paula walked the length of the room and stood peering through the lacy finery of the curtains. Her husband's car was at the door; presently he would come with his easy stride down the white stone steps of the entrance. His going each morning and his return at night were the events of Paula's day. Nothing else held for her the absorbing interest of this passing glance of her husband's face and figure.

Her violet eyes would widen wistfully, or would overflow with tears, as she sat for moments after his departure. Sometimes her eager hoping was rewarded by a covert glance in her hidden direction, but oftener her husband passed on, resolutely aloof.

"How long was it to go on," she wondered sadly, "this tragedy of the closed door?"

In unspoken understanding they had accepted their solitary living apartments upon either side of the long hall leading through the old mansion. This was after the blow had fallen, destroying hope of happiness.

Paula, at first, had believed that injured pride was responsible for her sufferings; then came the heart-breaking realization of her love for David. Always, it seemed, she had loved him and had not known. How could she have been so blind? Why, her lips had overflowed continually in snatches of joyous song as she moved about in her new home, and David's. Every gown she selected had been with a thought of pleasing David; indeed, every thought had been for him. She had not known the meaning of it all, because the fancy of an old infatuation still possessed her.

She had been but a school girl when Teddy Van came courting. Opposition upon her parents' side but added to determination upon hers to be Teddy's wife. He was a lovable youth, his very poverty gained for him her championship. And when affairs between the two promised to become serious, Paula's mother, in defense, presented David Burns—irreproachable, successful man of the world.

Indignantly at first, then stubbornly, Paula refused his attentions. Teddy was furious that another man should think of his Paula. Teddy told her to "hold out" against him and all would be well. But in some unaccountable way, when Teddy had been for some time absent, Paula, overwhelmed by her mother's importunities, and influenced by David Burns' persistence, had married him, in a blaze of society glory.

Teddy was forgotten in the happy months which followed. Old Dad alone was still concerned, fearful lest mother's persuasions had been unwisely forced where love held sway.

The blow which had severed Paula's happiness came in a well-meant letter from mother—a letter assuring Paula that her judgment in the choice of a husband for her daughter had been most wise.

"In your splendid home, with your fine social position," wrote mother, "you will realize that the love for Teddy Van, which seemed to you so serious, was after all not the only thing worth having." And David had read that letter—there was the tragedy.

He had opened it while Paula was out of town. His mother-in-law had intended paying them a visit, as she had purposed, and was writing, advising them when to meet her at the station. David desired to know the time of meeting, and read instead of his wife's deception.

When Paula returned he had faced her with the accusation of love for another man while marrying him for material benefit. And poor Paula, believing herself in the truth of his accusation, could but turn dumbly from the hurt of her husband's eyes.

It was later, through days of banishment from his presence, that full knowledge came to her of her own deep love for him. But David had left her on the night of condemnation.

"If your love is not mine, neither are you mine, Paula," he had said, and then, resolutely, he had closed the door—the only door which gave passage through the hall. Since then they had lived silently apart, unchanged only in the eyes of the world. And Paula, knowing the bitterness of the blow she had dealt David's great love, could still find no way to open the door his will had closed.

She was in the long room at twilight again, eager for her glimpse of her husband's coming. Upon the table she found a letter addressed in her father's flowing hand.

"Old dad is coming to see you, girl," she read. "Can't seem to rest easy in my mind about that matrimonial venture of yours—got to come and find out if you and that husband of yours are as happy as mother thinks you are. Got to know for sure, because the doctor says I won't be here long. I've had a sort of stroke and— Well, I can't leave you, girl, until I'm sure you're happy. I'll be with you tomorrow—Dad."

With a little cry, Paula ran and slipped the letter under the closed door. Tears were upon her cheeks, and as she waited breathlessly the door swung wide; her husband stood before her, the letter in his hand.

"For old dad's sake, Paula," he said sadly. But Paula was in his arms.

"For my sake, too, David," she cried. Dad's letter was the key to open the door, but I—I love you, David!"

And, looking into her eyes, he knew the truth.

Born in 1839 Dr. Caldwell Still in His Office Daily

Wonderful vigor of the founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Millions now use his famous prescription

ALL physicians know that good health depends largely upon proper digestion and elimination, and that most sickness results from these causes. None knows this better than the "family" doctor, the general practitioner.

Dr. W. B. Caldwell of Monticello, Illinois, was and is a family doctor. The whole human body, not any small part of it, was his practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

Dr. Caldwell in the course of 40 years' practice, for he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875, had found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year the preparation was first placed on the market. The picture of Dr. Caldwell that appears on the package was taken in that year.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in the doctor's private practice. Today the third generation is using it.

Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it, for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is selling at the rate of over 6 million bottles a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Syrup Pepsin, and the formula of that prescription is fortunately living to see its wonderful success.

Women, children and old people are the ones most benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It differs from physics in that its action is mild and gentle and free from gripping. It does not weaken. And while it is promptly effective in the most obstinate case, it is safe for a tiny baby as it contains no narcotics.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at 50c and $1 a bottle, the latter the family size and sufficient to last months. Keep a bottle in your home. Where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

ELABORATE COSTUMES FOR BELMONT SHOW

The costumes to be used in the production of "Oh, Oh, Cindy," Monday and Tuesday at the Ceramic theater, have arrived and were given out Thursday by Mrs. Harrington Adams, the director.

From the creations worn by the "Harlequins to the plain grey of the 'Quaker,'" group the costumes used are as elaborate as the largest musical comedies and an added attraction is the fact that all the costumes and scenery is new and bright.

In real life an actress admires and wears the most attractive costumes and it can be imagined that in a dream they would plan striking creations. "Cindy" is a show that represents the dream of an actress, so the costumes used are necessarily elaborate. Orman Terry, in charge of the box seat sale, announces that six box parties have already been planned and others are being formed.

An Open Letter to
HON. J. S. WILSON
Mayor, East LiverpoolTo Hon. J. S. Wilson, Mayor
East Liverpool, Ohio.

I wish to extend you my heartiest congratulations on your re-election.

Your selection once more as the leading citizen of our beautiful city is a vote of confidence on the part of your constituency in your integrity, ability and leadership.

To have reached that high station in life, you must have impressed the people of East Liverpool that you are worthy of that confidence. Your past record has had the powerful searchlight of publicity scrutinize it carefully for incidents which might be used to your detriment. Your record must then have been your recommendation.

I congratulate the people of East Liverpool on their choice. They are entitled to the best in chief executives as in other things that are a matter of pride to all progressive cities.

The American Theatre, too, wishes to maintain a high standard of excellence by which it may be judged by the people of East Liverpool. To be worthy of their confidence as the leading amusement center of their city, where only the greatest and the best in photoplays are shown. To that end it has contracted for the showing of THE MIRACLE MAN for four days, starting Nov. 24. The standard of excellence set by this production is particularly high, as it is the greatest screen play of a decade.

You and your official family are cordially invited to witness this highly interesting screen play.

HERMAN PHILLIPS.

MINNIE—The great secret of making hair grow is in the development of the vigor of hair roots. More stimulation of the scalp is not enough. It is the lack of realization of this fact which is the cause of so much failure in the treatment of the hair. The hair root is developed to a very remarkable degree by using the proper methods. As a root-developer nothing can equal the use of beta-quinol. This can be secured at any drug store for 50 cents in one-ounce packages. When mixed with a half pint of bay rum and a half pint of water the developer is ready to use. It is not oily, and when used liberally gives all the results which anyone could wish. By developing the roots, the growth is forced. It becomes thick, vigorous and silky. Bald spots fill out, and instead of shrunken, sick hairs which fall out readily on combing we have strong hair, held firmly in the scalp, thus putting an end to hair falling.

MRS. A. T. F.—The skin can be brought back to its original plumpness and vigor by the following formula. An astonishing result is the quick disappearance of wrinkles, little and big, crow's feet, and lines of age. It is simple and can be prepared in a few moments, by adding to half a pint of water one tablespoonful of glycerine and two ounces of equal. Obtain from your druggist for 50 cents. This takes years from your appearance, and is always sure and positive in its work if you will apply it liberally, every day.

MAY B. T.—As to head-wash, I advise against using soap or the many shampoos sold, because of the alkali they contain. This dries up hair sensations. Get eggol at the drug store and dissolve a teaspoonful of it in half a cup of water. You can get enough eggol for twenty-five cents for a dozen or more head-washes. It is magic in cleansing hair and scalp, and aids wonderfully in making hair grow.

CLAIMS CRAZE FOR DRESS IS CAUSE OF EVIL

Startling Conclusions Set Forth In Article by European Physician.

INDICTS DAME FASHION

Held Responsible for Immorality In Civilized Nations.

By NEWTON C. PARKE.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—Practically all of the great evils now confronting the civilized nations of the globe may be laid at the door of the feminine craze for indecent and extravagant dress, according to Dr. Foveau de Courmelles, one of the best known physicians in Europe and a leader in the suffrage movement for more than 30 years. These startling conclusions are set forth in an article by Dr. De Courmelles dealing with the effect of immodest and expensive dress upon the shortage of the baby crop and just published in La Revue Mondiale. Dr. De Courmelles indicts "Her Majesty, Dame Fashion," on the following counts:

(1)—She forces her subjects to make themselves slender by artificial means.

(2)—She causes women to expose their bodies to all kinds of weather.

(3)—By indecent variations of styles she causes women to spend so much money on clothes that many men are unable to marry and those who are married are unable to maintain large families of children.

(4)—She is the direct cause of much immorality prevalent in civilized nations.

(5)—She is a powerful, indirect cause of drunkenness and extravagant expenditure in other lines, since women who are fashionably dressed love to display themselves in restaurants, cafes and at the theatre.

(6)—By sharpening the contrast between wealth and misery she is the cause of much of the revolutionary agitation now spreading throughout the globe.

"If a woman appears at all plump her dressmaker tells her: 'Madame, you are too fat; you must do something to make yourself slender,'" says Dr. De Courmelles. "And she follows this advice. So we see the corset, useful to sustain the body, become an instrument that causes abnormal displacements. It is used to said that a woman is a being who dresses herself, gossips and then undresses herself; but that is a mistake nowadays; at least upon the first and third points.

"Women's clothing has reduced itself to the most simple expression by the slenderness of the body on the one hand and by the scantiness of the raiment on the other. She is dressed in 1919 when she is undressed.

"Now, as to my second point. The greatest part of the body is uncovered by the present day fashions. That permits Dame Fashion to collaborate with the physicians, insofar as fees are concerned, but it is something that physicians do not desire. In exposing the throat, the back, the limbs and the arms to all of the cold winds, Dame Fashion produces all sorts of colds, grippe, tuberculosis and helps lower the birth rate. A woman is no more mistress of her body. Style is sovereign.

"And as to the children—they are scarcely dressed at all in France. So we have the Spartacist selection. Only the robust survive, and the others

NOVEL HIGH BOOTS FAD BROUGHT BY FAMOUS ACTRESS

Mrs. Godfrey Earle and her boots.

Mary Malone, famous actress, who is now Mrs. Godfrey Earle, arrived recently in New York from abroad wearing a pair of high boots as the latest European fashion. The boots are of a leather. In view of the fact that an ordinary pair of oxford shoes cost half a week's pay, there is slight probability that the boots will be generally worn.

ers, with bare legs exposed to the weather and insufficiently clad, catch all sorts of afflictions.

"On the third point, we wish the things 'deluxe.' We spend the most of our resources to sustain a bluff. It is these heavy expenditures which kill the infant before it has a chance to be born. For men remain bachelors not only because they cannot afford to maintain wives in such style, but because they themselves love to associate with women gorgeously dressed. Everything that diminishes the amount of money spent in the home itself aids in the suppression of children and Dame Fashion is the leader.

"Life has become more dear and more complicated. It is out of all proportion to the increase in salaries, but it brings at the same time, by a peculiar anomaly, more coquetry into the world, because Dame Fashion reigns and brings misery, immorality, jealousy and the things which debase human lives. So we have prostitution, either open or clandestine out of need for money for costumes

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

LENA MADEIRA PHILLIPS, executive of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women has issued a call for an international conference to be held at the McAlpin Hotel, New York, on the evening of April 22.

Among the four hundred representatives from various states, will be a large number of the women physicians from England, France, Italy, Switzerland, China, South America, Japan, Serbia and other countries, who have been in attendance at the International Conference of Women Physicians. Here will also be representatives from various organizations of this country. The program will be taken up with discussions of the opportunities and problems of the business women of every country.

Dr. Ida Kahn, of China; Dr. Celia Lollini, of Rome and Dr. Alice Moutet, of Lyons, France will be among the speakers to bring a message from the professional women of other countries.

There will be the first conference of national importance called by this federation since its first annual convention at St. Louis, last July, when Miss Gail Laughlin, of San Francisco was elected its first president.

Among the delegates from other organizations who will be present are, Mrs. Gertrude S. Martin, Ithaca, New York, and Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve, from the Association of Collegiate Alumnae.

This National Federation of Business and Professional Women is a new organization which is growing fast and which deserves to be supported. It is something which is in need in this country where so many women are in business and professions. The organization is only too glad to communicate with business women's clubs which care to join.

AN INSIDE BATH MAKES YOU LOOK AND FEEL FRESH

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, declaring this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the alimentary canal before eating more food.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who have bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to show the value of inside bathing.

Trades for Deaf Women

Another great step forward in the reconstruction of handicapped humanity has been made in the organization of the first evening trade classes for hard of hearing and deaf women and girls in a New York night school.

The trades to be taught for the present are dressmaking, millinery, and embroidery. Later other branches may be taken up. The classes will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7:45 to 9:45 and will be in charge of instructors who have had much experience in teaching trades to the deaf. Opportunity will be given to hard of hearing girls who have graduated from the public schools to learn a useful, paying trade that will safeguard their future very effectively, and women who were forced out of their former occupations on account of encroaching deafness may learn to enter a new field that will make them self-sustaining and useful members of society.

School Girl At 65

The oldest grammar school student in Cleveland, Ohio, is Mrs. Anna Kneier, sixty-five, who is mother of sixteen children and a grandmother of fifteen.

"It's never too late to learn," Mrs. Kneier told her youngest daughter, a high school student. "I'm going to learn how to read the newspaper and write letters in English. And I'm going to the shows and understand what the actors say."

Two terms ago Mrs. Kneier began the study of English in night classes of the public schools. There were twenty-nine other grandmothers and mothers in her class.

"Pape's Cold Compound" then breaks up a cold in a few hours.

Don't stay stuffed up! Quit blowing and snuffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken usually breaks up a severe cold and ends all gripe misery.

The very first dose opens your clogged-up nostrils and the air passages of the head; stops nose running; relieves the headache, dullness, feverishness, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, contains no quinine—insist upon Pape's!

HOME MADE RECIPE CATARRH AND COLDS

Nonexpensive—Cut This Out.

Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same.

Ask your druggist for three quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and pour it into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Gargle the throat as directed and sniff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat so clean and healthy that germs of flu or any other germs will have a hard time gaining a foothold.

Chief of Police, East Liverpool

To Mr. Hugh McDermott, Chief of Police, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Dear Sir:—

You have the very important duty of maintaining order and looking after the safety of the people of your city.

You must, in addition to your being a born leader of men, and a man of strong character and probity, know every phase of human frailties, and every incident in the annals of crime. The dark chapters in men's histories are an open book to you.

Permit me to call your attention to a Crook Drama, so different from any other ever shown, so absorbing in its tale, so varied in its theme, that I can truthfully say that its seeing will add keen pleasure and delight to your inherent knowledge of criminology.

This photoplay supreme, THE MIRACLE MAN, plays The American Theatre, four days beginning Monday, and as a representative of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, permit me to ask you and your officers, on behalf of the management of the American Theatre, to be its guests during the engagement of the attraction.

Prominent New York Doctors

Tell Why They Believe In

PHOSPHATED IRON

They say it is the most valuable nerve-tonic, strength and blood-builder any physician or hospital can use, often increasing the strength of delicate, nervous, run-down people 100% in two weeks' time.

Of great importance to the public generally should be the opinion of Dr. Joseph Ciaramelli, prominent New York Specialist and Authority, formerly Staff Physician of The Hospital Incurabili, and Consultant to The Hospital Jesus Marie, Napoli, Italy, who is accepted as an authority by

JOSEPH CIARAMELLI, M. D. Former Staff Physician of The Hospital Incurabili and Consulting Physician to The Hospital Jesus Marie, both of Naples, Italy

European and American Medical Circles.

Dr. Ciaramelli in discussing the merits of this great blood tonic says: "It is without hesitation, I recommend Phosphated Iron. If people would only take Phosphated Iron when they feel weak, nervous, and run-down instead of dosing themselves with ineffective remedies, I am convinced that there are thousands who could quickly build up their red blood corpuscles, increase their strength and nerve energy, put on flesh, and look and feel 100% efficient. A great number of people suffer for lack of iron and phosphorus, but do not realize what is causing their delicate health. In my opinion, Phosphated Iron is the most valuable nerve-tonic, strength and blood-builder any physician can prescribe."

When a noted physician like Dr. Harlan Page, Authority on Diseases of the Blood and Nerves, formerly House Physician to The Metropolitan Hospital of New York, comes out frankly and publicly endorses Phosphated Iron, it must arouse the interest of every thinking person.

Dr. Page in speaking of Phosphated Iron says, "Severe tests made on many of my patients absolutely convince me of the extraordinary value of Phosphated Iron, as a tonic and health-builder. I have seen thin, pale, nervous, run-down people, old and young, double their strength and endurance, regain their appetite, increase in weight, and after a few weeks' use of this splendid remedy, look and feel years younger. By enriching the blood and creating red blood cells, Phosphated Iron strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and muscles, and instills new energy and vigor into the whole system. Every physician and hospital should prescribe Phosphated Iron."

Are you anemic, weak, nervous and listless? Then you owe it to

NO APPOINTMENT OF CENSUS TAKEN HERE

No census enumerator has been appointed for Newell as yet, it was authoritatively stated Wednesday, altho several applicants have submitted their names for the positions.

But one enumerator is wanted for Grant district outside of Chester. Considering the fact that Newell is located in this territory, the enumerator position will be one for which the remuneration will be large.

Three enumerators will be required for Grant district, although two of these will be used in Chester alone. The census work will pay about $6 per day. All applicants must successfully pass an examination before being eligible for appointment.

EPWORTH LEAGUE IN CHARGE OF SERVICES

With Mrs. Jesse Deeds, wife of the pastor, and Miss Rhoda Postlewaite, president of the society, in charge, the Epworth league society conducted the revival service at the First Methodist Episcopal church here, Wednesday evening.

Interesting talks were made by both speakers. The church was fairly well filled and considerable interest displayed. Several numbers were rendered by a mixed quartet, composed of the Kerns sisters, and the Anthon brothers, all of East Liverpool.

Samuel Spencer of East Liverpool will occupy the pulpit of the local church at Thursday night's service. Vocal numbers will be rendered by Mrs. C. W. Miller and James Davis, in addition to the special selections by the choir.

The meetings will continue throughout this week beginning at 7:30 o'clock each evening.

McCUNE HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

The home of Mrs. D. McCune, corner Grant and First streets, was slightly damaged by fire Wednesday morning. The fire originated from an open gas jet in the dining room.

The Newell volunteer fire department made a hurried call to the scene of the threatened conflagration and experienced but little trouble in extinguishing the blaze. The damage will not amount to more than $10. The house is owned by William Green.

TO TAKE CENSUS OF FOREST PRODUCTS

An important feature of the census which will be taken beginning in January will be the inclusion of two items which heretofore were never included, namely the census of forestry and forest products.

In West Virginia, with its great lumber industries, this is of more than ordinary interest. The enumerators will probably include the production of nuts, such as chestnuts, walnuts and hickory nuts, hundreds of thousands of pounds of which have been shipped this fall, one shipping center in Preston County, having kept up shipments of 1,000 pounds a day for some time, while Jackson County shipped thousands of pounds of walnuts, chestnuts and hickory nuts.

of Evans Triple Phosphate and quickly become happy, healthy and optimistic.

This is the prescription that contains just the right kind of strength giving iron that is easily assimilated and promptly gets into the blood along with other upbuilding agents. People who take it as directed will in just a few days feel so much stronger and better that they will be anxious and eager to do their daily work and so ambitious that work that now seems tiresome and difficult will be easily mastered.

All good pharmacists dispense Evans Triple Phosphate in the original bottle. Carnahan's Pharmacy and Bulger's Pharmacy sell a great deal of it.

Figures on livestock, published by the West Virginia Department of Agriculture, do not show any cause for statement shows that the number of livestock in nine counties in Western Europe and the United States, Canada, Argentina, Australia, New Zealand, considered as a whole, is just about what it was before the war began. During the war cattle in the 14 countries increased no less than 9,000,000 while sheep and swine, not counting Belgium and Argentina in these figures, because they are not available, decreased two and a half millions for sheep and seven and one-fourth millions for swine, the total tonnage in livestock thus being greater at the end of the war than it was when the war began. The figures do not include the livestock for the former territory of Austria-Hungary, the Balkans or Russia, where there probably is a heavy decrease.

"THE MIRACLE MAN" IS FEATURE AT AMERICAN

"I have seen 'The Miracle Man.' No once, but at least a dozen times. I have watched the absorbing tale unfold through seven masterly reels and at its end I have sat motionless, entranced, a feeling unable to account for, possessing me. I have found it difficult to witness a play more than once, to reread a book, or to listen to a story already heard. But I have seen 'The Miracle Man' time and time again and have been held spellbound by its story, as though it were a fresh experience. Why? I cannot account for it in no other way but for the wonderful power, the subtle influence, the benign beneficence of its central character, the kindly old soul, the Patriarch, the Miracle Man."

Now, if the Miracle Man exerts such an influence (and almost every one who has seen the photoplay confesses to a similar experience) by means of an intangible screen performance, I wonder what a power he might exert were he to step out of the pictures and become a breathing, human person in the flesh.

"The Miracle Man" is a coming feature at the American.

Could Not Eat or Sleep

Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic, gave him appetite and felt like different man.

Ruston, La.—"I am a working man and got all run down so I could not eat, sleep or work. Vinol was recommended for my condition. It built me up so I eat well, sleep well, can work all day long and not feel tired. In fact, I feel like a different man since I took it." —JOHN H. WILSON.

"Men fret and worry." That's why they overwork, get nervous, all run down, have no appetite, and can "hardly drag around." Vinol creates a hearty appetite, induces sound sleep, invigorates the nerves, creates strength and quiets the nerves.

It is the beef and cod liver peptones contained in Vinol aided by iron and glycerophosphates which makes it such a famous blood maker, nerve builder and strength creator.

colony. They thought that there they would be able to realize the happiness for which they had so long been searching; that here they could carry out their long delayed plans; that here they could be free. They became free—too free. Socialism became Bolshevism and freedom, it came.

Their dreams were shattered. The beautiful, fertile island became barren and unwholesome. Men and women lost all power of reasoning and lived as cattle do. Bolshevism was at its work. It killed everything but one thing. It could not kill the pure, clean, holy love of a beautiful girl and a devoted man. It tried; it struck at them time and again, but it only fanned the flame into a fire. The danger this monster caused by its presence only served to draw them closer to each other. Bolshevism can not kill love, when it is a real love; not the loose, free love that Bolshevists practice, but love of the higher kind.

"THE THUNDERBOLT" IS FILM AT CERAMIC

Charged by a dying father with the duty of avenging the family honor of the Corbins by "getting the last of the Pomeroy's," Bruce Corbin engineers a hate marriage in "The Thunderbolt," starring Katherine MacDonald, the American beauty, and which will be seen at the Ceramic theater commencing Thursday.

In the full bloom of manhood, Corbin ruthlessly sacrifices the happiness that comes with wealth, popularity and position in order to carry out the wishes of his father. With Allan Pomeroy, the only living male member of the hate family, entirely in his power as a result of a flagrant bond forgery, Corbin realizes that his cherished vow to "get the last of the Pomeroy's" rests in his chances of preventing the beautiful and much sought Ruth Pomeroy from bearing children.

Threatening Allan Pomeroy with disgrace unless he agrees to sanction the marriage of his daughter to Corbin, the latter compels Ruth to marry him. The shock kills Allan Pomeroy and Corbin informs the girl that he only married her to avenge his family and insure the fact that the Pomeroy stock would die out with her; that she is the last of the Pomeroy's.

With an iron will the girl refuses to let a Corbin win. She determines to establish the continuation of the Pomeroy family. How Ruth Pomeroy wins a wonderful victory makes "The Thunderbolt" an absorbing picture.

Cinderella Hot Blast $5.00 Down

Each year for the last four years our order for Cinderella Hot Blasts has been double over the preceding year, and again we are going to experience the same unpleasantness as former years—not enough to go around.

It is quite evident that our customers are not looking for the cheapest stove they can buy, but instead they want the best value to be had for the amount expended.

Cinderella Stoves have gained a reputation and as a result of which Moore's Stove Department has increased to such remarkable proportions that it is one of the foremost in Ohio.

Any Hot Blast, any size, will be delivered on $5.00 down.

EDWARDS IS SENTENCED TO STATE PENITENTIARY

T. C. Edwards, proprietor of a five and ten cent store at Parkersburg, was sentenced to serve two years in the West Virginia state penitentiary Wednesday afternoon when Judge R. M. Addleman, presiding in circuit court at New Cumberland, overruled the petition of his attorneys for a new trial.

Edwards was found guilty on a felony charge by the petit jury this week. He and W. W. E. Llewellyn, Chester pottery works, were indicted by the grand jury at this term of court for the theft of a large quantity of table ware from the Taylor, Smith & Taylor pottery in Chester, where the latter had been working. Llewellyn pleaded guilty to the charge this week and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Sentence was not imposed upon Edwards at this time as his attorneys had filed a motion for a new trial.

Attorneys for Edwards say they will carry his case to higher courts in an effort to have the action of the county court reversed. He has been remanded to the county jail where he will be held with Llewellyn and Harry Ewell, East Liverpool man, convicted on a similar charge, pending the arrival of guards from the state prison at Moundsville.

ROBERT MARTIN IS ACQUITTED BY JURY

The boy was discharged.

Martin and two other local youths were indicted jointly on the assault charge. One of the trio, Albert Householder, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state reformatory.

Several other important cases, which could not be considered Wednesday, were continued until Saturday.

COLT, FRIGHTENED BY CAR, HOLDS UP TRAFFIC

Quite a little excitement occurred midway on the Chester-East Liverpool bridge about 9:45 o'clock Thursday morning, when a colt took fright at an approaching street car. Both the east-bound and the west-bound Chester cars were temporarily halted by the occurrence.

The colt, being ridden by its owner, was crossing the bridge from East Liverpool and about half way across the span took fright at the west-bound car which was approaching. MAY ORGANIZE K. C. COUNCIL IN CHESTER

That Catholic men residing in Chester organize a local council in the Knights of Columbus lodge, is the suggestion which has been made by Rev. Father W. J. Sauer, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic church of this city to members of the congregation.

In a communication to the various Catholic churches of the Wheeling diocese, Bishop Donahue has urged that Catholic men enroll in the Knights of Columbus wherever possible. Rev. Father Sauer read this communication to members of his church and suggested that steps be taken to organize a Chester council in the order, the membership of which is open to Catholics only.

The Knights of Columbus established an enviable record during the war, especially in the manner of providing recreation, entertainment and canteen service for the soldier boys. This service alone, it is pointed out, is a sufficient reason to prompt every Catholic to lend his support to the organization by becoming a member.

Recently there were 16 local Catholics, were made members of Carroll Council No. 509, Knights of Columbus, of East Liverpool.

UPPER PENINSULA FEARS DEER WILL BE WIPE OUT

SOULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — The greatest venison chase the upper peninsula has ever witnessed began recently. By noon of the opening day, 4,111 men had arrived with their guns and other equipment, compared with 2,026 at the beginning of last season. The season's total from lower Michigan in 1918 was 3,504.

There is much talk of this being the last season for hunting in the upper peninsula for some time to come. If each hunter here gets his deer the wilds will be so greatly depopulated of game that it will take several years to recuperate.

Rice-milling machinery in Siam was almost entirely supplied by Germany before the war.

BIG YEAR FOR BREAD EATING

A new food movement is sweeping the country. For the first time in its history America is acquiring a real appetite for bread.

Bakers throughout the nation report a demand for bread which exceeds by far the demand of previous years. This has given rise to a general opinion that 1919 will be a banner year for bread eating in the United States.

The war and resultant food restrictions awakened the American public to the extreme importance of bread as a food. During the conflict the cry for bread ran out louder than the heaviest cannon. And, although the titanic struggle has ceased and an era of peace is dawning, a lasting impression of the food value of bread has been made in the public mind.

Prominent bakers throughout the country have asserted that the public appetite for good wheat bread has been whetted by the former regulations of the food administration preventing the making of the appetizing and more palatable wheat flour bread which the nation had been accustomed to eating.

As one baker aptly summarized the situation, "We never miss good things until they have gone." Thus it was with wheat flour bread. Fortunately, the familiar and wholesome white bread has again returned to our tables.

The incentive for eating more bread has been spurred to some extent by the prevailing high prices of other foods. While the cost of flour has increased also, nevertheless bread still remains the most economical of foods, considering not only its bulk, but its high food qualities in comparison to price.

Science, with its marvelous development during the last century, has confirmed time and time again the importance of bread as a food. Physicians and dieticians for years have given bread its proper recognition, noting its high food qualities and prescribing it for patients in some form or other in preference to many other foods.

The average American complacently ignored these facts—that is, until the matter was brought to his attention in a more striking manner—the result being that the United States consumes less bread per capita than any of the world's great nations.

But the rapidly growing appetite for bread in this country indicates that the public is giving it more deserved recognition as the most wholesome, nutritious and economical of foods, and that the United States is now on the way to rise from the "cellar" position as a bread-eating nation.

The last of the movable wickets in the upper Ohio river between Pittsburg and Steubenville have been raised at the order of Senior U. S. Engineer J. W. Arras at Pittsburg. PIE FAMINE IN FOREST CITY

Sugar Shortage Hits Making of Pastry in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—Cleveland today faced a pie famine. Unless the sugar shortage is alleviated by Saturday practically all pastry will be discontinued. Even the baking of bread is affected. Bakers now are using syrup, molasses, honey and malt to sweeten the bread but the cost is higher and predictions were made today that bread will soon be advanced to 15 cents for a pound loaf.

Officials of the Cleveland Bakers' club will confer today with Mayor Davis on the situation. The city is endeavoring to purchase sugar for sale to consumers and the bakers will seek to have the city take care of their pressing needs.

Federal authorities have completed their investigation of charges of hoarding against Northern Ohio best sugar manufacturers and U. S. District Attorney Wertz said they had found them baseless.

Dr. C. M. Rouche today issued a fair price list fixing 12 and a half cents per pound as the maximum for sugar. Federal authorities announced that prosecutions would follow sales made at higher prices.

OVER 100 TEAMS IN PIN TOURNAMENT

The success of the first annual international industrial telegraphic bowling tournament is assured, as entries pour in from all parts of the United States and Canada, swelling the total amount of teams interested to well over the 100 mark. With requests for entry blanks still coming in from industrial concerns throughout the country, each of them promising a team, the promoters of the wire event expect no less than 250 starters at the sound of the gong on Saturday night, Feb. 21, 1920.

There will be no entry fee, as all prizes will be donations, including several trophies, mineralite bowling balls, merchandise, etc. The handsome championship trophy which will symbolize the classic entry in the first international industrial bowling tournament, will not become the permanent possession of any team until that team has won the championship two years. The meet is confined to employees of the industrial concerns, and each player must be in the employ of the firm at least two months prior to receipt of entry.

Already 130 concerns have signified their intentions of entering, and with two months to go before the closing of the entries, it is a certainty that this tournament will be larger than all other telegraphic tournaments combined. Within the next two or three weeks the booklet containing the telegraphic code, rules, etc., governing the tournament will be in the hands of all those interested. The code system found therein will simplify in telegram to such an extent that there will be very little expense attached in the sending in of the scores.

WAR TO FINISH ON BAN JOHNSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The owners of the New York, Chicago and Boston American League baseball clubs today have made it plain that their war against Ban Johnson, president of the league, is a fight to the finish.

The three club owners, Charles A. Comiskey, of Chicago, Harry Frazee, of Boston, and Jacob Ruppert of New York, who together with President Johnson and owner Navin, of Detroit, form the board of directors, called the annual meeting of the American League club owners for New York on December 10. Johnson previously had announced it would be held in Chicago. The rules of the league provide that the board of directors shall have power to call meetings of the league members.

The three members of the board who met yesterday also ordered Johnson to turn over his contract with the league. It was reported the board intended to prove that Johnson's contract which calls for a term of 20 years, is illegal. The league laws, it is charged, hold that the president must be elected annually.

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfil the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like and endless system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcel Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the East Liverpool Review. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

PLAN TO STRENGTHEN EDUCATIONAL WORK

COLUMBUS, Nov. 15.—Ten suggestions for strengthening Ohio's state educational work have been sent by President R. M. Hughes to Secretary C. C. Crabbe of the joint legislative committee on reorganization.

President Hughes wrote that he thought the following ten possibilities should be considered.

Increase the importance and power of the state superintendent of public instruction and pay a big man at least $10,000; increase the help in the state department; help meet the shortage in teachers by properly housing teachers near rural schools; make $1,000 the minimum salary for public school teachers; provide generously for giving good consideration to the state's three universities; give the state department a specialist in higher education to help university presidents with routine work; provide a chancellor for the state university system under a board of regents; make the appointees to the presidency of the three universities subject to his nomination; secure competent men on a central board of regents who would be willing to give the necessary time; employ an able man as a business manager of each university at salaries of from $5,000 to $10,000; provide a state tax adequate to support higher education.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by E. J. "CAN'T CUT OFF MY LEG" SAYS RAILROAD ENGINEER

"I am a railroad engineer; about 20 years ago my leg was seriously injured in an accident out West. Upon my refusing to allow the doctor to amputate it I was told it would be impossible to heal the wound. I have tried all kinds of salves and had many doctors in the past 20 years, but to no avail. Finally I resolved to use PETERSON'S OINTMENT on my leg. You cannot imagine my astonishment when I found it was doing what over 100 things had failed to do. My leg is now completely cured."—Gus Hauff, 799 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

It makes me feel proud to be able to produce an ointment like that," says Peterson of Buffalo. "Not only do I guarantee Peterson's Ointment for old sores and wounds, but for eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, itching skin and blood poisoning, or itching piles, and I put up a big box for 25 cents, a price all can afford to pay and money back from your druggist if not satisfied."

RED CROSS ON JOB IN CAMPS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—Of the eight welfare organizations formerly affiliated with the army and navy, the American Red Cross is the only one at present retained in camps.

With the lowering of the number of men in camps and army hospitals, the government has decided to take over all welfare work with the exception of certain Red Cross activities.

an announcement from the war department states.

Red Cross workers in camp will continue to furnish recreation and entertainment programs, and communication service for the sick, wounded and convalescents in army hospitals. For all soldiers they will continue home service. This includes assistance with problems of allotments, allowance, furloughs, discharge and after care.

GIRLS PREFER SHIRTWAIST JOBS TO DOMESTIC WORK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Pecking away at a typewriter or pouring over a bookkeeper's books has more allure-ment for the young lady who must toil nowadays than the good old fashioned wielding of rolling pins and brooms. Records at the state free employment bureau here bear on this modernized fact. Countless "domestic" positions go "begging," while all the "shirt-waist" jobs are gobbled up.

They thoroughly cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and benefit the liver. They correct indigestion, bad breath, bloating, gas, coated tongue and other results of sluggish bowels. FAST FIVE AT HIGH ASSURED

Five Veterans of Last Season's Campaign Will Form Backbone of 1919-20 Quintet—Start Work Soon.

Within a few weeks the blue and white will come into its own. Thanksgiving day will witness the passing of football and thoughts will be turned to basketball activities. East Liverpool has furnished one of the best teams in the state for years past and this season is not likely to prove an exception unless all indications fail. Football, which in the past several years has not been extremely successful with high school teams, is overshadowed here by basketball enthusiasm. It is without a doubt the blue and white's most successful sport.

High school should establish a good mark and if not better than that of last year. Five veterans of last year's squad, a team in themselves, will be out at the first call. Huxton, Terry, Menge, Manton and Brown, all members of the 1918-19 squad, and all on the roster of the present football outfit, benefited by their experience on the floor during the past campaign, will form the backbone of the 1919-20 squad.

Buxton played at forward for the locals last season and took part in every game of the season. Pete Coleman was his sidekick, but Coleman graduated last spring and now is playing in older company. It may be possible that Terry will be used at the other forward this season, although he played the majority of games last year at a guard. Menge broke into the game about the middle of the season at guard and earned a permanent position. Manton is another guard of ability who will likely work with Menge. Brown jumped center in the preceding year and unless some candidate of exceptional ability appears on the scene before long, he will be the first string man for the pivot job.

W.&J. HARD AT WORK FOR MOUNTANIEERS

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 20.—Coach Morrow yesterday sent the Washington and Jefferson team back to a session in fundamentals. Palling on the ball, tackling the dummy, and mauling the charging machine over the lot, comprised a good portion of the work. The players, according to the belief of the coaches, have forgotten a lot of essential and primitive football, which is necessary before they can develop teamwork and unity, and they are to get a lot of the rudimentary stuff within the next few days.

Smith was the only regular not in the practice. The husky fullback has a leg that is bothering him, and while he is able to play if it should be necessary the coaches are conserving his physical condition as much as possible. All the other cripples were back in the practice, and it looks now as if the entire regular varsity is at its fullest strength—the same team that defeated Syracuse—will start against West Virginia Wesleyan.

Morrow is preparing to build up a defense for the forward pass which both the West Virginia teams—Wesleyan met here Saturday and the State University at Morgantown on Thanksgiving—use exceptionally well. Head Coach Morrow on his return from the East, where he saw the mountaineers in their game with Rutgers, stated that McIntire's eleven was the best forward passing team he had ever seen. In fact, the aerial forward fling has won most of West Virginia's games which have been turned in on the right side of the ledger.

But Wesleyan has taken a leaf out of the Mountaineers' notebook and is said to be fully adept at the passing game as the Morgantown team. In fact, two years ago the Methodists defeated the West Virginia team practically the same as that of today, by the forward pass route. Consequently the Buckhannon eleven is expected to show something out of the ordinary in other guard of ability who will likely work with Menge. Brown jumped center in the preceding year and unless some candidate of exceptional ability appears on the scene before long, he will be the first string man for the pivot job.

Inasmuch as athletic authorities at the high school here are availing the curtain on football, nothing definite has been done in the way of starting the annual hunt for material. Following the game with Wellsville which marks the final of gridiron activities for the blue and white, it is expected that a formal call will be made for basketball candidates. No line has been obtained on any likely material yet, but there is no question that the veterans from last year will have to work for their jobs.

A definite schedule has not yet been announced by Faculty Manager of Athletics W. W. Robinson, but it is believed that the season's card is well toward completion.

Of course it is too early to pass on high school's ability to earn a niche in the Ohio high school basketball "hall of fame," as it has been accustomed to in years gone by. But it is reasonable to believe that the blue and white will make its annual jaunt to Delaware providing that it makes any kind of a record here. The locals have always been able to perform about twice as well in Edward's gymnasium there as on their own floor. They have been defeated during the past five years or so at times by teams which could not be counted out in the competition at Delaware and then in the tournament would startle their followers by cleaning up on some of the fastest tourney entries. This has occurred frequently.

With the addition of a little material of class A1 ability, high school officials promise this season to furnish one of the best squads in years.

WILL REPRESENT U. S. IN BOXING TOURNEYS ABROAD

These three American amateur boxers have sailed for Norway and Sweden to take part in championship boxing tourneys in those countries. Their first appearance will be in Denmark. Ashton Donza of New Orleans, one of the top of the 115-pound class, John Burke of Pittsburgh, the pick of the light-heavyweight division and Frank Cassidy is the choice in the 135-pound class.

CANNEFAX IS WINNER IN BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—Robert L. Cannefax, New York, today holds the national three-cushion billiard championship.

The tournament came to a close last night when Pierre Maupome put Chas. McCourt out of the running by defeating him 50 to 48 in 58 innings in one of the most sensational matches of the tournament.

Cannefax won eight games and lost but one, finishing the tournament with a percentage of .889. McCourt won seven and lost two and Maupome won six and lost three.

HARVARD PROFESSOR SHOT IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Professor Roger B. Merriam, of Harvard, was the victim of a hunting accident at Lake Winnepesaukee recently. While he was walking through a brush thicket one of his hunting companions took his hat for a bird, fired, and several buckshots entered the professor's face around the eyes.

Professor Merriam is at home under the care of Dr. Cheever. It is feared his sight may be impaired.

TWO OF BIG THREE MAY PLAY RETURN GAME

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 20.—Suggestions that the Princeton-Harvard football teams play off their tie game of November 8 in a contest to be held November 29 have found favor with the Harvard athletic management and with the Crimson players.

Fred W. Moore, graduate manager of athletics, expressed himself as in favor of the play-off, but the official sanction would have to come from the faculty.

A Harvard victory over Yale next Saturday would make the Crimson keen to re-play the only game of the season which it failed to win, while a Yale success would leave little to be determined by the game in view of Princeton's defeat of Yale.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 20.—Head Coach William W. Roper, of the Princeton team, when asked yesterday regarding the possibility of a play-off of the Harvard-Princeton tie game for the benefit of the universities, endowment funds, expressed doubt as to its feasibility.

"The Princeton football squad has broken training for the season and the coaches have scattered all parts of the country to resume their various lines of business, which have been neglected for some weeks," Roper said.

Herbert Was Proud Of His Game

Herbert Spencer, the great philosopher, was very proud of his game of billiards. He once said to a crony of his:

"To play a good game of billiards is the accomplishment of a gentleman." Our amusement parlors are clean and inviting. You will find that little game of pocket billiards or the popular three-cushion or carrom game will be restful to your nerves.

EASTERN ELEVEN ARE PRIMED FOR FRAY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 20.—The Harvard football squad bade farewell to the stadium today that is, as far as practice is concerned. The undergrads headed by their forty piece band paraded to the snow-swept field to cheer the team and practice songs and cheers.

The team will leave tonight for Manchester-By-The-Sea, where they will have rooms at the Eccex Country club. Light practice will be held on the golf links of the club.

The Yale squad, 35 strong, reaches town early tonight and immediately goes out to the Belmont Spring Country club which will be headquarters until the battle starts on Saturday.

There will be a signal practice drill at the stadium Friday but for the most part the athletes will be instructed to roam over the hills near Belmont.

"The proposed game could not be played before Saturday, December 6, or 13, and I doubt whether the amount in gate receipts gained for the endowment funds would warrant the upsetting of college and football system and tradition."

RIVAL CAMPS BECOME ACTIVE

Grands and Weavers Preparing for Battle Next Sunday at West End Park.

In the two different football camps in the city great activities are under way.

Whispered numbers, practice until far into the evening, new plays, careful bandaging of injured limbs and such things, all point to the football battle imminent.

The Grands and the Weavers, the two prospective contenders for laurels who will meet at West End park next Sunday afternoon are holding daily scrimmage and signal practice, probably for the first time this season. It points to one of the hardest fought grid battles of the season, up till the present time, at least.

Arrangements were completed at a meeting of the managements of the two organizations Wednesday night for the approaching conflict. Twenty-two and some extra odd eyes are fastened on the $300 purse which will revert to the winner a the conclusion of the engagement this week end. It will be the bone of contention. The two teams each posted their respective prices Wednesday night.

Coach Jack McLaghlin is in charge of the Weavers squad which will attempt to wrest honors from the older organization.

Coach Jerry Osterhouse is confident that his Grands will rise to the occasion and turn back the attack of the club from the corner.

Mitchell-Cline Draw

DETROIT, Nov. 20.—Ritchie Mitchell of Milwaukee and Irish Patsy Cline of New York, fought ten fast rounds here last night to a hair line draw.

Both men fought themselves out during the early rounds and during the last two rounds clung to each other to avoid knock downs.

"BOLSHEVISM ON TRIAL"

the picture that everybody talks about and it will make you do the same. You can't stop talking about this great production after you have seen it for yourself.

No greater or truer picture has ever appeared upon the screen; no greater warning to the American people than that thrilling tale of Bolshevism. Capital and Labor stand firmly united under the Torch of Liberty. American Capital and Labor are mutually resolved to brook no interference in their common interests by the destructive forces of Bolshevism.

What happens in this picture will interest every citizen in East Liverpool. We invite every person in our community, no matter what their work of business, may they be rich or poor, you must see this picture.

After witnessing this great picture, our chief of police, Hugh J. McDermott, said he has never yet seen a greater, picture, nor a greater lesson to the American people, and he urges every-body to see this wonderful picture.
